History of Dominick's Pizza

In 1962, a 12-year old Vincent Scavo arrived in New York City with his family in search of the great American dream. By the age of 16 Vinny had started working for his older brother Dominick making pizzas in Prospect Park, Brooklyn. Vinny & Dominick together with their cousin Sal, went to New Jersey and opened several pizzerias in Clinton, Somerville, Newtown, Flemington & Trenton. In 1972 Vinny married Nancy and they started their family Two years later, in 1974,

Vinny opened his own Dominick's Pizza Shoppe in Washington Crossing, Pennsylvania. 35 years and three children later, he opened Dominick's of Richboro, followed by four additional locations: Dublin, Oxford Valley, Trenton and the newest Hamilton, NJ. All six restaurants are now called Original Dominick's Pizza so you can be sure whose pizza you are eating. Vinny believes that his success is due to his dedicated customers who love his original pizza recipes, his family and his hard working staff who take pride in their work. Vinny can still be found making great food in his Washington Crossing store when he's not playing with his grandchildren.
